THICK, GLOSSY HAIR
FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fashish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

Peril in "White" Australia.

Colonization offers serious problems for the advocates of a "white Australia." North Queensland is within that boundary of 20 degrees north and south of the equator in which white men may live, but they cannot take their wives there and found families. So the doctor says. And the doctor has noted that whereas the first generation of whites does well, the second and the third lead down to the failure of the fourth.—London Standard.

Bad Bachelor Hippos.

Sir John Kirk and Livingstone were attacked by a hippopotamus that was, no doubt, a "bachelor." Speaking of the hippopotami of the Chobe, Livingstone says that "as certain elderly males are expelled from the herd they become soured in their temper and so misanthropic as to attack every canoe that comes near them. The herd is never dangerous except when a canoe passes into the midst of it when all are asleep, and some of them may strike the canoe in terror. As a rule, these animals flee the approach of man. The 'solitaires,' however, frequent certain localities well known to the inhabitants on the banks and, like the rogue elephants, are extremely dangerous." Livingstone learned that when attacked by one you should dive to the bottom and keep there a few seconds, since the hippo soon moves off if he finds nobody on the surface.—London Sphere.

Work and the Weather.

The restless days are here. All outdoors invites us and our work becomes a conscious effort and a bore. It is the time when we are most in sympathy with Jerome K. Jerome in his confession, as follows: "I like work; it fascinates me. I can sit and look at it for hours. I love to keep it by me; the idea of getting rid of it nearly breaks my heart."—Boston Transcript.

EASIER TO WRITE IT

YOUNG SUITOR EVIDENTLY A LITTLE EMBARRASSED.

Ordeal of "Asking Papa" Was Too Much for Him, but There Have Been Many Others in Just the Same Fix.

Prior to the epoch-making moment when his love triumphed over his native bashfulness young Mr. Askam would have maintained against any odds that the hardest thing in life was to propose to the girl you worshiped. Afterwards, however, he decided that the proposal was simply child's play compared to asking the consent of his father-in-law elect, although that estimable old gentleman was a great friend.

Flushed with success with the daughter, he felt filled with the spirit of a hundred conquerors, and recklessly insisted upon seeing the father at once. But upon reaching the library the spirit of the hundred conquerors suddenly evaporated and left him with pale face and trembling knees and chaotic mind.

"I—er—er—" he stammered insufficiently.

"Indeed!" observed the old gentleman, chuckling. "Then you're no more than human."

"Ah, ha!" gasped Mr. Askam, hysterically, pretending a hilarity he was far, far from feeling.

"How is your mother?" asked the old gentleman, after an awkward pause, with the kindly intention of setting his caller at rest.

"I love her. I—I passionately adore her. She—she has promised to marry me if you consent," announced Mr. Askam, in a wild burst of eloquence.

"What! Your mother?" cried the old gentleman, aghast.

"No, no," explained the thoroughly confused Mr. Askam. "Yours."

"My mother! Are you crazy?" demanded the old gentleman, excitedly.

"I shall be in a minute," moaned the wretched Mr. Askam. "Sir," he continued, the words falling slowly and cautiously from his agitated lips. "I—came—here—to ask—your—consent—to marry—me."

"Eh?" cried the old gentleman.

"I'll—I'll write it!" shouted the unhappy Mr. Askam, struck by a happy thought as he burst madly out of the room. And in that way matters were at last straightened to everyone's satisfaction.

Hamlet.

At the first performance of Hamlet upon any stage the applause was very slight, and with it had been mingled a few hisses. There was no call for the author from applauders or hisses, and Burbage was in a terrible fury.

Hunting up the crestfallen author of the play, he roared:

"Shakespeare, this Hamlet of yours is rotten! There isn't an epigram from one end to the other, and no society play can hope to succeed without 'em. Queen Elizabeth is asleep in her box, and Sir Walter Raleigh has just kicked a hound into the street to relieve his feelings! You've got to insert a couple of dozen of old glittering epigrams into it by tomorrow's rehearsal or I'll turn it into a musical comedy by introducing a ballet and making the grave diggers Yiddish comedians!"

Next morning the trembling author handed in a sheaf of Pinneresque sentences that embraced the following:

"Brevity is the soul of wit."
"Conscience doth make cowards of us all."

"Frailty, thy name is woman."
"Tis true, 'tis pity, and pity 'tis 'tis true."

Evidently they added the touch that playgoers wanted, for Hamlet is running still.—Pulitzer's Magazine.

Depending on Their Enemies.

An interesting story comes from a district in Asiatic Turkey. The American consul was investigating the effects of the Balkan wars on this region and found that the most constant and universal complaint was the loss of banking facilities. This seemed a rather strange result of war, but further inquiry made the matter clear.

The only bank in that district was managed by Greeks, as a branch of the Bank of Athens. Naturally, this was closed when war broke out, for foreign cash is not very safe when within reach of a needy Turkish government. As a consequence, a considerable district, peopled almost wholly by Mohammedans, was deprived of money to move its crops, carry on its trade and conduct its business, because the "enemies" and "Christian dogs" who formerly performed these services were gone.

The story illustrates at once the interlocking of national interests in modern times and the peculiar dependence of Turkey on Christians in general and Greeks in particular for the conveniences of civilization.

A Valuable Suggestion.
"We must do something," said the president of the great railroad system, "to increase our revenues. Can you suggest anything?"
"I don't know of any way," replied the treasurer, "unless you and the chairman of the board are willing to go into vaudeville or report the world's championship games and turn your salaries in as gross earnings."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Can't Escape Him.

On a recent examination paper in civics was this question: "If the president, vice-president and all the members of the cabinet should die, who would officiate?"

Robert, a boy of 12, thought for some time, trying in vain to recall who came next in succession. At last a happy inspiration came to him and he answered: "The undertaker."—Chicago Daily News.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.
